On behalf of Modern Didactics Center, non-governmental education organization in Lithuania, I would like in short to present Public Consulting Group – PCG, organization in Poland. It is branch organization of the big international network, with headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts, USA. Our cooperation with colleagues from Poland and USA is quite short, just one year, working together in EU Commission's granted project "DATAUSE: Using data for Improving School and Students Performance". Nevertheless, we as the project partners, have had opportunity to experience professionalism of project staff in content and management matters. Project and organization staff is composed of dedicated, responsible and knowledgeable people, which individually and as a team demonstrate high quality work.

I recommend PCG for any kind of partnership in joint programmes or projects, connected with education, healthcare or local government management issues. Organization is capable to work with any interested parties, work cooperatively and productively.
