

SALEM-KEIZER CASCADE BTA 201

Course Information

The Salem-Keizer Cascade BTA Training Courses are for BTA team members, including school administrators, school psychology professionals, special education coordinators, school resource officers or law enforcement and practitioners from community mental health services, representatives from juvenile services and law enforcement, and other community agencies.

SUMMARY

Level 2 of the program provides learners with an understanding of a multi-disciplinary, multi-agency, community-based behavioral threat assessment and management system (called Level 2).

OVERVIEW

Duration

4 hours

Type

Asynchronous

Learning Objectives

- Describe the role and composition of the community-based Level 2 threat assessment system
- List the local and regional resources as well as the available youth-serving agency support for a Level 2 team
- Discuss the process for referral to a community-based Level 2 threat assessment support team
- Problem-solve the implementation challenges of the Level 2 team within a school district
- Apply knowledge through case study exercises

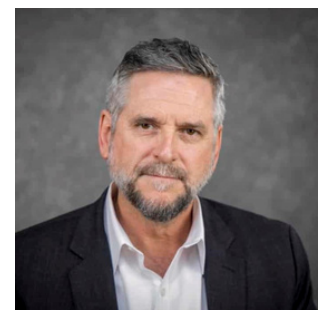

Course Objective

Upon completion, the learner will be able to develop a sustainable community-based Level 2 threat assessment support team in their district.

JOHN VAN DREAL

John Van Dreal is a school psychologist and the retired director of security, safety, and risk management for the Salem-Keizer School District. He has more than 30 years of experience in preventive behavioral threat assessment and management, psycho-educational evaluation, crisis intervention, behavioral intervention, and security and risk management systems consultation. He is recognized internationally as an expert in threat assessment and a pioneer of multi-disciplinary threat assessment.

In 1999, John began the development and implementation of the Salem-Keizer Cascade Model, a multi-agency student violence prevention and behavioral threat assessment system that is considered by experts to be a leading practice and is identified by the U.S. Department of Education and the What Works Clearinghouse as a best-practice program.

PUBLIC CONSULTING GROUP

Exclusively through PCG, schools can obtain the online training courses developed in conjunction with John Van Dreal. Additionally, the EDPlan BTA/SRA software platform helps teams identify, assess and manage students of concern.
